COVID-19 variants

In New York, the Delta variant has been the dominant strain since late 2021. For more information about the Delta variant, please visit cdc.gov/coronavirus/2019-ncov/variants/delta-variant.html.

COVID-19 vaccines

To schedule an appointment for a vaccine, visit vaccines.gov or call 1-800-232-0233 (TTY 888-720-7489) or contact your local health department.

For more information about the COVID-19 variants and vaccines, please visit www1.nyc.gov/site/doh/covid/covid-19-main.page.
NYC Test and Trace Corps

- NYC has launched the NYC Test and Trace Corps, which uses contact tracing technology to track COVID-19 cases. The program aims to isolate cases and contact their contacts to slow the spread of the virus.

NY HERO App

- New York has launched the NY HERO app, which uses Bluetooth technology to trace exposure to COVID-19 cases. The app notifies users if they have been exposed to a positive case.

Exposure to COVID-19

- Exposures can be traced through the app, and notifications are sent to users if they have been exposed to a positive case. Users are also given guidance on how to limit their exposure and protect others.

Get Tested

- Testing is available to anyone with or without symptoms, and results are usually available in 48-72 hours. Testing is available at a variety of locations, including hospitals, pharmacies, and community centers.

For more information, visit nychealthandhospitals.org/test-and-trace or call 1-855-355-5777.
New York City - New York, United States

The temporary protected status (TPS) program allows individuals who are not U.S. citizens to live and work in the United States temporarily if they are from a country that has been designated for TPS. This program is available to individuals who are not citizens or nationals of the following countries: Afghanistan, Bangladesh, Central American Countries (including El Salvador, Guatemala, and Honduras), Haiti, Nepal, and South Sudan. The TPS program is currently available to citizens of the following countries: Iraq, Mexico, and Sudan.

To apply for TPS, individuals must meet certain eligibility requirements and file the appropriate forms. For more information, individuals can visit the U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) website at https://www.uscis.gov/tps. Individuals who may be eligible for TPS should consider applying as soon as possible to avoid any potential changes to the program.

For more information, individuals can contact the USCIS at 1-800-870-3676. Individuals can also visit the USCIS website at https://www.uscis.gov/tps.
